

ADMISSION TO RECEPTION, AUTUMN TERM 2018

Information about waiting lists, appeals and the breakdown of allocations for community schools, academies and free schools in Enfield

The Local Authority (LA) is responsible for deciding how places are allocated at community primary schools. For academies, free schools and voluntary aided (faith) schools the governors, academy council or trust of the relevant school are responsible for deciding how places should be allocated. When considering applications the relevant admission authority uses the published admissions criteria to decide which children are offered places.

The admissions criteria for Enfield schools are published in the booklet 'Applying for a Primary School in Enfield' which was available online at www.enfield.gov.uk/admissions or given to you. It also explains how applications are considered. Information about admission arrangements for schools in other authorities can be obtained from them directly.

Community schools in Enfield

- If your child has not been offered a place at a community school of your preference, this is because more children wanted to go to this school than there were places available. The published admissions criteria were applied and any application you made for a community school was considered under the distance criterion (the straight line measurement from your home to the school). Within this criterion, the children living closest to the school have been offered the available places. The table overleaf details the breakdown of the allocations for September for the oversubscribed community schools.
- Children who have been refused places have been included on the waiting lists for the schools concerned. If any of the places that have been offered are rejected, we will offer these to children on the waiting list. If you want your child considered for a school that wasn't on your original application form, or was listed as a lower preference than the school your child has been offered, you need to complete a PR2 form. This can be downloaded from the Enfield website, www.enfield.gov.uk/admissions.

Own admission authority schools in Enfield – academies, free schools and voluntary aided schools

- If you have not been offered a place at an own admission authority school, this is because the governors or academy council had to use the admissions criteria to decide which children should be offered places and other children had a higher degree of priority to the school concerned. You should contact the school directly if you want further information about the way your application was considered. You should also contact the school for further information about waiting lists.

Appeals

- You have the right to appeal against the decision not to offer your child a place at a school of your preference. Your right of appeal is in accordance with the School Standards and Framework Act 1998. Please note that for the majority of appeals will be heard in accordance with the class size legislation restrictions.
- Appeal forms for community schools are available from the Enfield Schools Admission Service and can be downloaded from the Enfield website www.enfield.gov.uk/admissions. Appeal forms for community schools must be returned by 18 May 2018. You need to contact own admission authority schools directly for appeal forms and further information about their appeal arrangements as their timetable may be different.
